

EQ-i® (Emotional Quotient Inventory) Certification Training

Join us to become certified in the most popular emotional intelligence (EI) tool on the market today. The EQ-i is used by thousands of your peers all around the world to improve the value and impact of their work with clients. And, like all assessments, this training will provide you with invaluable insight into your own emotional habits, strengths, and weaknesses, setting you up to improve your own performance in numerous ways.

The EQ-i will become an invaluable addition to your portfolio as a coach, consultant, HR professional, trainer, or counselor. CBODN has created this opportunity in response to enthusiastic feedback on recent CBODN programs that introduced the EQ-i to its members. We've secured a special reduced rate for our members!

Workshop Objectives

- Become fully certified in the EQ-i, and thus gain lifetime access to its use and the on line system that provides and administers the assessment, and creates reports for your use
- Understand the history and construction of emotional intelligence, and where the EQ-i fits
- Learn the methods that will enable you to put the EQ-i to use in your work the next day. This training is fast-paced, experiential, and oriented toward practical application.
